Autism in Motion Clinics

Your Child's Future is Full of Hope.

ABA can help them achieve milestones.

Autism in Motion (AIM) Clinics believes that Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) can transform the lives of children with autism and strives to provide the highest-quality service to the kids and families we serve.

We have brought ABA to places where it hasn't been easily accessible and currently have two locations in Oklahoma in Edmond and Norman.

ABA therapy

Grounded in the science of learning, Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) immerses your child in a caring, positive environment. Broad, complex concepts are broken down into small tasks that are easier to understand, process, learn and repeat in everyday life.

Creating a treatment plan that fits

Before you start our program, we will assess your child's abilities and challenges and design an individualized treatment plan that targets their unique needs. ABA therapy sessions are always one-on-one and we spend between 15–30 hours per week with your child.

For our Early Learner Program, sessions include a variety of activities, such as circle time, art time, toy time and active time.

How do I pay for ABA?

Most major insurance companies (including Blue Cross Blue Shield, Aetna, Cigna, UnitedHealthcare and Tricare) and most Medicaid plans cover ABA therapy.

ABA therapy can help your child or teen achieve milestones in these areas:

- Social skills
- Communication skills
- Self-care
- Challenging behavior
- Daily living skills

OKLAHOMA FOSTERS

EVERY CHILD DESERVES A SAFE, LOVING HOME EVERY DAY!

It takes a special foster parent to open their home to a child with special needs and provide the extra support necessary for them to thrive.

All children deserve to live in a loving home environment, but sadly, many are being cared for in treatment facilities and emergency shelters due to a lack of foster homes.

DHS will train foster parents on the special needs of children so families are well-equipped to provide specialized care. DHS also has nurses on staff to provide referrals for medical consultations, resources and specialized therapies to meet each child's needs. Your child welfare specialist may make referrals for mental health supports. The children's medical care and other services are covered by Medicaid.

Please consider opening your home and providing a loving, nurturing environment to a child with special needs.

Say YES to fostering today!

OWIPA

Oklahoma Work Incentives Planning and Assistance Project

WORK INCENTIVES MAKE IT EASIER FOR PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES TO WORK AND STILL RECEIVE MEDICAL BENEFITS AND, IN SOME CASES, CASH BENEFITS FROM SOCIAL SECURITY. WORK INCENTIVES CAN HELP YOU THROUGH THE TRANSITION TO WORK AND FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE.

OWIPA is a project operated by the National Center for Disability Education and Training, a department within the Division of Public and Community Services of University Outreach, University of Oklahoma.

The mission of the WIPA program is to promote employment and financial independence for beneficiaries of the Social Security disability program.

The OWIPA Project provides direct work incentives planning and assistance services to disability beneficiaries receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and/or Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) beneficiaries across the state of Oklahoma to assist them in their employment efforts.
